Product News:

*Stone fruit: due in for Saturday! Yellow and white peaches and yellow nectarines, check with your rep to confirm!

Beets: Organic sack Chioggia Beets and Red Beets are in stock from Coke Farm. Organic Gold sack beets are available by preorder.

Conical Cabbage: Miller Farm in Butte County is growing some Green Conical Cabbage for us. The first batch was leafy and not as tight but the flavor is pronounced and very sweet. In other cabbage news, organic Green cabbage supplies from Coke Farm or Lakeside Organics are strong. Organic Nappa is gapping.

Carrots: Organic Thumbelina Carrots from County Line are in good supply this week. The season could end abruptly as the higher heat sets in the Coachella Valley, get them while you can!

Cauliflower: All Cauliflower crops are now locally grown in the Salinas Valley but supplies are still limited this week and price is very high. Sweet Baby Cauliflower from Church Brothers is in stock. Supplies are strong on cheddar, green and purple cauliflowers.

Lemons: CA grown Lemons supplies are tightening as we are passed the peak season but prices are steady to start the week. The lemon crops are moving from the desert district to the coastal district for the late spring / early summer seasons. Organic Meyer Lemons are in stock from Coke Farm but the season is almost finished.

Lemon Verbena: Good news for the near future, verbena will be available in mid-May!

Limes: supplies from Mexico have not improved this week as expected and prices are still on the high side.

Kennebec/Chipperbec Potatoes: Supply will be tight with Northwest season winding down and Bakersfield season expected to start in 2 to 3 weeks; quality will be hit and miss right now.

Strawberries: Oxnard and Santa Maria volume has finally picked up due to good weather condition in the growing area. Salinas/Watsonville has started up with limited supply, and fruit is also running on the small side.

Tomatoes: Market took a jump last week on Roma and 5x5 Tomatoes; supply is very tight due to heavy retail demand for Cinco De Mayo and Mother's Day week.

Gapping:

Spring "Walla Walla" onions

Limited:

Organic strawberries
Nantes carrots
Red bell peppers conventional and organic
Sunflower sprouts
Limes

Done:

Cara cara oranges
County Line all baby beets
County line baby lettuces
Spring garlic (ending soon)
